This is a detailed map of the Glasgow Subway system. The map features a grid with letters A through K horizontally and numbers 1 through 9 vertically. The subway lines are shown as orange lines with orange rectangular markers representing platforms. Key stations labeled include Hillhead, Kelvinbridge, Kelvinhall, Partick (with date 16/04/1980), Merkland Street (with note 'Closed 28/05/1977'), Govan, Broomloan Depot, Ibrox, Cessnock, Kinning Park, Shields Road, West Street, Bridge Street, St Enoch, and Buchanan Street. The River Clyde is depicted in light blue, flowing through the center of the map. Green areas represent parks and other green spaces. A legend in the bottom left corner explains the symbols for tracks, platforms, and lifted tracks, and includes a scale bar (0 to 1 km) and a compass rose. A title block in the top right corner identifies the map as 'GLASGOW Subway Map' and provides copyright information. Vertical text on the left and right edges of the map repeats the copyright notice.
